Jamie Kirkell – Paintings on Silk

Jamie Kirkell's large silk floral paintings bring a freshness and lightness to the exploration of both the orchid and the iris. His paintings are a direct result of his time spent in Java Indonesia where he studied batik and textile design under Master Batik Artist, Bambang Oetoro at the Batik Research Institute of Indonesia. While in the United States Peace Corps, he spent time in the Philippines and Southeast Asia furthering his interest in orchid collecting and floral design. Kirkell's studies have also taken him to Ohio State University and The Art Students League in New York.

Kirkell's works embody the spirit of botanical art, showing the complete and accurate depiction of flower, leaf and stem. His technique and interpretive modes reflect the integration of classical and modern influences, characteristic in contemporary botanical painting.

Jamie Kirkell has exhibited his works across the US, including galleries and botanic gardens in New York City, San Diego, Miami, and Cleveland. Internationally his works have been exhibited in Israel and Aruba. Kirkell's pieces are also in collections at the Chrysler Building in New York, the Aish Hatorah Library in Jerusalem, Devi Sri Hotels in Aruba and the Turnberry Isle Resort in Miami.
