BARBARA SNOW

A native of Michigan, Barbara received her degree in design from the University of Michigan and did graduate work at U. of M., Saginaw Valley State University, and Center for Creative Studies. While living in Michigan, she opened a calligraphy studio and did numerous commissions for area businesses and individuals as well as teaching many adult education art classes and being guest lecturer at various community meetings. Before her retirement from teaching middle and high school art, she was also dean of students, director of student activities, and assistant principal which limited her time for personal artistic endeavors.

Since her move to Hilton Head in 1997, she has had much more time to pursue her own interests and has taken workshops with Frank Webb, Sheila Parsons, Joyce Nagle, Jim Kosvenec, Doug Dawson and Bill Herring. Watercolor and pastel are current favorites although most of her past work has been done in clay, oil and acrylic. A loom also occupies a special spot in her studio. She still does many calligraphy commissions. Her work is in many private collections across the country. She is a member of the South Carolina Watercolor Society, Southeastern Pastel Society, Applepie Painters, SOHO, and displays with the Lowcountry Artists.

A dream that began in 1969 with her first visit to the island finally came true. "There is so much to learn in art, to experiment with, to discover, and to enjoy."
